Individuals vulnerable to serious infection coming into school		Students who are clinically vulnerable Students who are unable to attend school because they are complying with advice from a clinician or a public health professional, will be immediately offered access to remote learning which will be closely monitored and supported. There is no obligation to set tasks ‘by the lesson’, and students will be directed to the Kingsmead COVID School on Firefly. Their absence will not be penalised. Remote Learning Plan (11.02.21) UPDATED.pdf (kingsmead-school.com) Clinical studies have shown that children and young people, including those originally considered to be clinically extremely vulnerable (CEV), are at very low risk of serious illness if they catch the virus. The UK Clinical Review Panel has recommended that all children and young people under the age of 18 should no longer be considered CEV and should be removed from the Shielded Patient List, the national database of people considered clinically extremely vulnerable. All children and young people should continue to follow the same guidance as everyone else, which can be found at www.gov.uk/coronavirus. For a very few individual children specific clinical advice may be given and this should continue to be followed. Staff who are Clinically Vulnerable Clinically Vulnerable staff can continue to attend school. While in school they must follow the system of controls to minimise the risks of transmission and individual risk assessments will be carried out with any staff who identify themselves as Clinically Vulnerable. Pregnant women are in the ‘clinically vulnerable’ category and are generally advised to follow the above advice, which applies to all staff in schools. All pregnant women should take particular care to practise frequent thorough hand washing, and cleaning of frequently touched areas in their home or workspace, and follow the measures set out in the system of controls section of this guidance to minimise the risks of transmission.	Wm/RJT
